

FAMILY VACATIONS

From dream-come-true Disney experiences to a memory-making adventure to awesome outdoor explorations, AAA MemberVacations have something for the child in everyone.

MEMBERS TRAVEL BETTER:

Passports and/or visas may not be all you'll need for a vacation outside the United States. Children traveling with one parent will need a notarized letter from the non-traveling parent authorizing your travel plans. Be prepared to present this document at border crossings or at the airport.

How about some quality family time away from home?

AAA Family Vacations come in all shapes and sizes to appeal to both the young and the young at heart. Make little ones' dreams come true on the ultimate Disney vacation, where playtime is split between the world-famous Walt Disney World® Resort and a Bahamian cruise that calls on Disney's own private island. Or, plan a truly epic adventure. Stay stateside and rumble through rapids in Utah's stunning Desolation Canyon, or fly to far away Australia to surf on Bondi Beach or 4-wheel drive on Kangaroo Island.

Jump-start the excitement for the whole family by getting every member involved in the planning process. Rent movies or read stories set in your vacation locale. Depending on your destination, you may want to research local customs or learn key phrases of a foreign language.

Start planning early and expand your idea of what makes a great family vacation. This year, how about a family reunion? Your AAA Travel Agent can provide you with a wide variety of family-friendly vacation options. Consider a cruise or an all-inclusive resort, both of which offer something for everyone – kids' clubs, luxurious spas and exciting excursions. Couples, singles and families can vacation in their own way each day, then catch up each night over dinner.

Browse through the Family Vacations section for more information about these and other fabulous family vacation ideas!
